

Professor Mahnaz Ashrafi obtained her medical degree in 1984 from Tehran University of Medical Science and received her obstetrics and gynecology specialty in 1989 from Iran University of Medical Science. She then became assistant Professor and associate Professor and professor in faculty of Medicine, Iran University of Medical Science. Her current positions are: Head of ART Clinic of Akbarabadi Hospital, Tehran, Iran and academic staff & Member of Endocrinology and Female Infertility Department, Royan Institute. She is expert in medical and surgical treatment of infertility, recurrent miscarriage and all assisted reproductive treatments. Her fields of interest are: ovarian stimulation, clinical protocols, endometriosis, implantation, repeated implantation failure, PCO and endocrinology, endometrial receptivity, ART outcome and basic science. She has been project manager in lots of research projects. She has been author or co-author in more than 220 national and international articles, abstracts, books and chapter books.